

NOT SO little WOMEN

A 6-part Bible Study

Often overlooked, and often little understood, women play not only an important part in the bible, but in the ongoing life of God's people. They include heroes and villains, the powerful and the demon possessed, the devoutly faithful but the often forgotten. Join us, as we rediscover their lives and their contribution to life of God's people in this new 6-part study beginning Thurs. May 2nd with sessions at 1:00 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

Thurs. May 2nd – Miriam

She's the older sister of Moses, and a prophetess of Israel during the Old Testament's story of the Exodus.

Thurs. May 9th – Deborah

She is amongst the greatest of Israel's leaders during the Old Testament's period of the Judges.

Thurs. May 16th – Jezebel

Thurs. May 23rd – Esther

Jewish by birth, and a Persian queen by marriage, hers is a life that saved God's people in what's come to be called the Old Testament's Post-exilic period.

Thurs. May 30th – Elizabeth

She is the mother of John the Baptist, confident of the her cousin Mary, and woman who's story has helped shaped the Gospel of the New Testament.

Thurs. June 13th – Mary Magdalene

Her story has often been confused and misrepresented, yet she is instrumental to the life of the early church, and the spread of the Gospel to the world.

Thurs. June 20th – Rain Date (if needed)
